

Connecting with Students

Counselor dashboards are enabled by connecting with students. You can search for students by name or the email they used to create their account.

Navigate to the student's profile, and click the "Add Connection" button. You will be asked to identify how you know that person. Select "Student" for those you want to be included in your counselor dashboard.

Students may also choose to search for you using your name or the email address you used to create your account. Once students navigate to your profile and clicks the “Add Connection” button, they will want to identify you as their counselor or mentor. Here students can also control what information they share.
