Career Readiness Indicator

- In 2019, 9,189 Maryland graduates (52 percent) were likely to attain the Gold ACT WorkKeys National Career Readiness Certificate or higher based upon ACT Composite score, compared to 726,923 (41 percent) nationally.
 - The ACT Composite scores associated with a 50% chance of earning each ACT WorkKeys NCRC level or higher are: 13 for Bronze, 17 for Silver, 22 for Gold, and 27 for Platinum. Based on those cut scores, students who earned an ACT Composite score of less than 13 would be classified as "Needs Improvement," 13 to 16 as "Bronze," 17 to 21 as "Silver," and 22 or above as "Gold or Higher."

Impact

- Based on the actual test volume and ACT score distributions of 2019 ACT-tested Maryland high school graduates, ACT research estimates that an increase of 0.1 in state average ACT Composite score for the 2019 graduating class would result in:
 - 39 more students enrolling in college.
 - 44 more students persisting to year two.
 - 30 fewer students needing remedial English.
 - 48 fewer students needing remedial math.
 - 50 more students persisting to year four.
 - 53 more students earning a postsecondary degree within six years.

Behaviors that Impact Access and Opportunity

- In Maryland, 5,375 of the 2019 graduates (30.5 percent) taking the ACT two or more times had an average Composite score of 25.0, compared to an average of 21.1 for 12,242 of the 2019 graduates (69.5 percent) who took the ACT only once.
 - Nationwide, 765,568 of the 2019 graduates (42.9 percent) taking the ACT two or more times had an average Composite score of 22.7, compared to an average of 19.2 for 1,017,252 of the 2019 graduates (57.1 percent) who took the ACT only once.
- 24,792 score reports were sent to colleges by 2019 Maryland ACT-tested graduates.
 - 10,158 score reports were sent to in-state public colleges by 2019 Maryland ACT-tested graduates.
 - For Maryland's 2019 ACT-tested graduates, the top five schools to which scores were sent were the University of Maryland College Park, Towson University, the University of Maryland Baltimore County, Anne Arundel Community College, and Salisbury University.
 - For Maryland's 2019 ACT-tested graduates, the top three out-of-state schools to which scores were sent were Penn State - University Park Campus, Howard University, and Virginia Tech.

- Compared to 66 percent of 2019 graduates nationally, 61 percent of Maryland graduates opted into the ACT Educational Opportunity Service (EOS). EOS is a free service that allows students to gain exposure to recruitment, scholarship agencies, colleges, and universities that students may not have accessed on their own. The ACT Get Your Name in the Game initiative encourages colleges and universities to recruit underserved EOS participants to increase access and opportunity for all.
- In the 2018-2019 academic year, ACT issued 2,916 ACT fee waivers to qualified Maryland students across all grades. However, 806 students (27.6 percent) did not take advantage of this opportunity to test for free. This compares to 487,749 waivers issued nationally, of which 135,569 (27.8 percent) students did not take advantage. This represents a great opportunity for high schools within the state to increase the socioeconomic diversity of its students tested.
